Introduction and Summary of Resolution Strategy

1. Introduction

In this Plan, Mega FHC, as a foreign-based covered company, describes a strategy for the rapid and orderly resolution of its entities that are domiciled in the U.S. in the event of the failure of Mega FHC and all of its subsidiaries and branches.

Mega FHC's U.S. operations comprise solely the U.S. banking business of Mega FHC's banking subsidiary, Mega ICBC. Mega ICBC holds four uninsured bank branches in the U.S. Mega ICBC NY Branch, Mega ICBC Chicago Branch, Mega ICBC LA Branch, and Mega ICBC SV Branch are the non-FDIC insured branches of Mega ICBC in the U.S. licensed by the state of New York, the state of Illinois, and the state of California respectively. Mega FHC's subsidiary-Chung Kuo Insurance Co., Ltd. established its Guam representative office (the "Guam Office") in U.S. The operation scale of the Guam office is minimal. Moreover, the Guam Office does not belong to the primary business line, the banking business line, of Mega FHC. Therefore, the Guam Office is clearly of little relevance to this Plan. In light of its irrelevance, here and in subsequent sections of this Plan, we will not address the Guam office when we discuss the U.S. Branches and U.S. operations of Mega FHC.

As the Plan will describe, the U.S. Branches conduct very limited banking operations in their respective U.S. locales, focusing solely on traditional commercial banking business predominantly with their institutional clients. Other than informational technology support, the U.S. Branches generally have no material operational interconnections with each other, with Mega ICBC, or with the non-banking operations of Mega FHC outside the U.S. Further, as defined by the Rule, neither of these U.S. Branches is a Material Entity, as neither conducts a Core Business Line for Mega FHC or a Critical Operation. Therefore, the relevant U.S. Authorities can resolve each of these U.S. Branches locally in a rapid and orderly manner, without the need to take into considerations on mitigating the adverse effects of resolution on the other U.S. Branches, Mega ICBC, or other Mega FHC entities or on the stability of the U.S.

2. Key Elements of the Plan for the Rapid and Orderly Resolution of the U.S. Branches In the Event of Material Financial Distress at or the Failure of Mega FHC

The U.S. Branches, as state-licensed branches, would be resolved under the supervision of their respective state banking authorities and the FRB, pursuant to the applicable state insolvency laws.

Considering their limited banking operation and the straightforward makeup of their assets and liabilities, the most likely and feasible resolution strategy for the U.S. Branches under all three economic scenarios (i.e., baseline, adverse and severely adverse) is liquidation under the applicable state insolvency law frameworks. The commercial lending portfolio, the predominant asset of the U.S. Branches, can be marketed singly or in different pools of similar characteristics and/or packaged with wholesale deposits. Unaffiliated creditor claims of the U.S. Branches would be satisfied to the extent of the proceeds of asset liquidation.

Funding for the U.S. Branches during the resolution process can be sourced from the sale of assets and potentially from secured funding from the FRB.

3. Integration of the U.S. Resolution Planning Process into Mega FHC's Non-U.S. Resolution Planning Process

Resolution planning for the U.S. Branches is integrated into the risk management and contingency planning framework for Mega ICBC and Mega FHC.

Mega FHC and Mega ICBC has organized an internal task force consisting of the heads of all the relevant departments to prepare, update, and implement the Plan on an annual basis, under the supervision and guidance of the Board of Directors of Mega ICBC and Mega FHC, which ultimately oversees overall operations and risk management process for all global Mega FHC entities.

This Plan has been approved by the Board of Directors of Mega FHC.

I. Names of Material Entities

As mentioned above, Mega FHC's Plan has no Material Entities, as it has no Core Business Lines or Critical Operations. However, for informational purposes, the Plan discusses the U.S. Branches, including the interconnections and interdependencies among the U.S. entities and affiliates of Mega FHC around the world, and the integration of the resolution planning of the U.S. entities into the contingency process of Mega FHC. (The Guam representative office of Chung Kuo Insurance Co., Ltd. is not in the focus of this Plan because the type of business it conducts, insurance, is of minor importance to Mega FHC and its business volume and assets are in any case insignificant to Mega FHC.) Mega FHC streamlined the contents of this Plan with an intention to promote an accurate and comprehensive understanding on the part of the FRB and the FDIC about Mega FHC and, in particular, the operations of Mega FHC in the U.S. and to enhance the ability of the authorities and Mega FHC itself in facilitating a rapid and orderly resolution of Mega FHC in response to a material financial distress of Mega FHC.

II. Description of Core Business Lines

As Mega FHC does not conduct any business line in whole or material part in the U.S., Mega FHC has determined that, under Rule, Mega FHC has no Core Business Lines.

A minor part of the banking business of Mega FHC is conducted in the U.S. Mega FHC conducts its banking business in the U.S. through the four branches of Mega ICBC in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, and San Jose. The business of these branches is largely confined to corporate banking. The business volume of these branches is very small compared against the business volume of the entire banking business of Mega FHC with reference to either the net revenue, income before income tax, or assets and liabilities, and even less significant compared to the business volume of the entire Mega FHC.

The share in the business volume of the banking business line of Mega FHC (the business volume of Mega ICBC) contributed by the operations in the U.S. is no more than 7.5% in a usual year in terms of either net revenue or income before income tax. With respect to assets and liabilities, the share of U.S. operations in the banking business line of Mega FHC is less than 5% (after deduction of the funds the CBC deposited at Mega ICBC NY Branch, which have been deposited at the FRB by Mega ICBC NY Branch). Therefore, the banking business of Mega FHC is not a Core Business Line.

3. Primary Funding Sources

Mega ICBC's primary funding sources include customer deposits, deposits by the CBC and other banks, as well as long-term financial bonds and shareholders' equity. Most of the assets and liabilities of Mega ICBC comprise of properly matched and diversified lending/funding arrangements. Assets are matched with liabilities in terms of maturity and amount, and funding arrangements are made on any assets that could not be matched with core deposits of the same maturity.

The primary funding sources of the U.S. Branches are customer deposits and loans from the CBC and other overseas branches of Taiwanese banks. The U.S. Branches are 100% owned by Mega ICBC. If necessary, Mega ICBC promises to fully support its overseas branches, although the Plan does not rely upon such support in insolvency. In addition to the expansion of the deposits business and the maintenance of good relations with other banks, which diversify funding sources and lower liquidity risks, the U.S. Branches have access to the discount window to meet its liquidity needs by pledging its assets with the FRB.

IV. Description of Derivative and Hedging Activities

Derivatives

As of December 31, 2013, only Mega ICBC NY Branch held a position in derivatives, which was a currency swap for the purpose of hedging against the exchange rate risks in connection with loans in Japanese Yen and funding allocation. The other U.S. Branches did not hold any derivatives.

According to the investment policies of Mega ICBC and the U.S. Branches, the U.S. Branches can only engage in derivative transactions for hedging purposes; for instance, when a branch engages in investment or lending in a fixed rate or in a foreign currency, the branch is permitted to conduct derivative transactions such as an interest rate swap or a currency swap in accordance with the risk management policies of Mega ICBC.

Hedging Activities

As of December 31, 2013, only Mega ICBC NY Branch held a position in derivatives, a currency swap, for hedging purpose. The other U.S. Branches did not engage in any transaction for hedging purposes.

Most of the assets and liabilities held by Mega ICBC and the U.S. Branches bear floating interest. To accomplish risk management goals, Mega ICBC and the U.S. Branches focus their hedging activities on the transfer of interest rate volatility and market price risks. Mega ICBC and the U.S. Branch has also developed interest rate and exchange rate fair value hedging strategies based on transfer pricing principles, which conform to Mega ICBC's rules on derivative transactions.

X. Description of Material Management Information Systems

The main management information system used by Mega ICBC's overseas branches is a proprietary system developed by Mega ICBC. The system has been designed to comply with the rules pertaining to the various departments, accounting, and risk management of Mega ICBC, with certain adjustments made to the standardized core operation contents of the overseas branches in order to accommodate the local regulatory requirements where overseas branches operate. The material management information systems of the U.S. Branches are sufficient to generate the information necessary to execute the resolution strategy described below. The material management information systems of the U.S. Branches are widely involved in the daily transactions, valuation procedures, risk management, funding, performance assessment, regulatory filings, and reporting of accounting and financial information.

XI. High-level Description of Resolution Strategy

As required by the FRB and FDIC, Mega FHC has prepared the Plan under the assumption that Mega FHC and all of its subsidiaries and branches have reached the point of simultaneous failure. This hypothetical failure is addressed under each of the baseline, adverse and severely adverse economic scenarios. Further, as required by FRB and FDIC, in this Plan Mega FHC will state a resolution strategy solely for its U.S. operations.

Mega ICBC NY Branch, Mega ICBC Chicago Branch, Mega ICBC LA Branch, and Mega ICBC SV Branch, as state-licensed branches, would be placed into the receivership of the respective state banking authorities and be resolved under the applicable state insolvency laws.

Considering the limited wholesale banking operations of Mega ICBC NY Branch, Mega ICBC Chicago Branch, Mega ICBC LA Branch, and Mega ICBC SV Branch, the preferred resolution strategy for each of these branches is an orderly and deliberate wind-down of operations and sale of assets and liabilities under the applicable insolvency regime. Under this approach, the key assets of Mega ICBC NY Branch, Mega ICBC Chicago Branch, Mega ICBC LA Branch, and Mega ICBC SV Branch likely would be liquidated or would be transferred along with their deposits and other liabilities to an acquirer. The liabilities not thereby assumed in such transfers would be satisfied to the extent of the assets remaining in the respective receiverships.
